HA Result

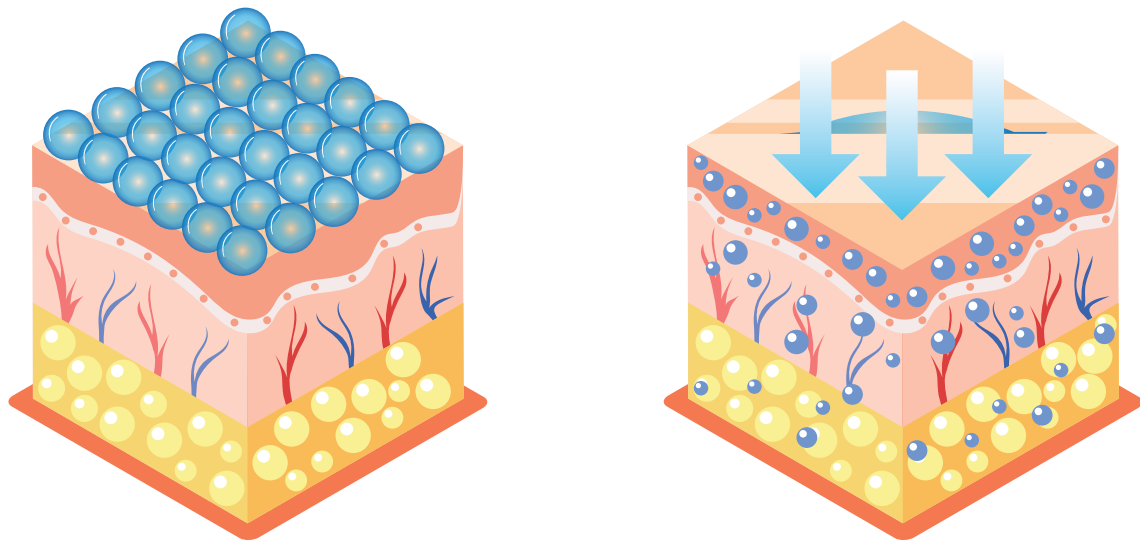

24mg Hyaluronic Acid for Longer-Lasting Hydration and Firmness

While typical skin boosters contain 22mg of Hyaluronic Acid, maintaining effects for about six months, LUMEEZY Skin Booster features a high concentration of 24mg Hyaluronic Acid.

This delivers abundant moisture deep into the skin and enhances firmness, with effects lasting up to one year.

The 24mg concentration represents an increase of over 10% compared to conventional products, playing an outstanding role in long-term skin improvement and sustained hydration. For prolonged moisture and elasticity, experience LUMEEZY.

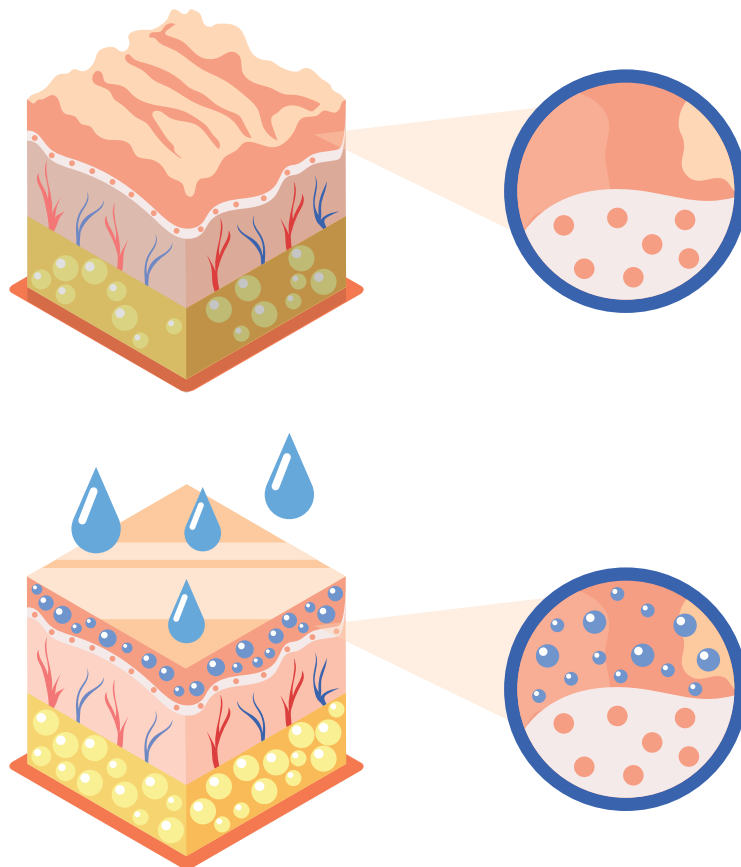

LUMEEZY REJUVENATION HEALER:
An Innovative Solution for Fundamentally
Revitalizing Skin's Vitality

PDRN, a key ingredient of LUMEEZY, goes beyond mere nutrient supply. It deeply penetrates the epidermis and dermis—the skin's most vital structures—to promote the activation of cellular tissues.

This process induces the natural production of collagen and elastin, contributing to the delicate reconstruction of damaged skin structures, thereby restoring the skin's intrinsic firm elasticity and healthy regenerative power.

LUMEEZY's PDRN awakens the skin's fundamental recovery mechanisms, delivering an increasingly firmer and more vibrant skin condition over time.

The Perfect Harmony of PDRN and Hyaluronic Acid: LUMEEZY's Unique Radiant Skin and Exceptional Regenerative Effects

Building upon the potent regenerative effects of PDRN, the addition of skin-friendly natural moisturizing factor, Hyaluronic Acid, allows the skin to experience profound hydration and a velvety soft touch.

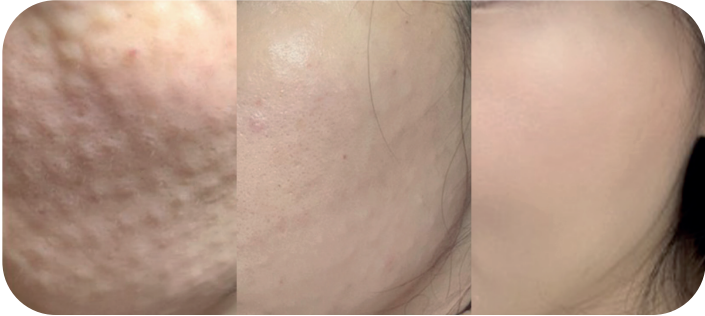

Hyaluronic Acid intensively delivers abundant moisture deep into the skin, fortifying its moisture barrier and imparting a healthy radiance and subtle luminosity to tired, dehydrated complexions.

The exquisite and flawless synergy of PDRN and Hyaluronic Acid transcends mere hydration, ushering in a higher dimension of skin transformation. It meticulously rebalances the skin, culminating in LUMEEZY's exclusive regenerative solution that cultivates a vibrant, clear, and radiant skin tone.
